MORE THAN 3000 GERMAN SAILORS WERE IN MUTINY

Socialist Members of the Reichstag Were Also Involved in Plot

WANTED TO ADOPT RUSSIAN PLAN

Lack of Food and Fighting, Among the Causes
Assigned For Outbreak

(International News Service.)

Copenhagen, Oct. 11.—More than 3,000 sailors and several members of the Reichstag were involved in the mutiny in the German navy which broke out late in August, according to information reaching here from a German naval port. The leaders were plotting revolution when the outbreak was checked by German soldiers and sailors.

Most of the warships affected were lying at Wilhelmshaven when the uprising took place. Latest reports give the following causes as the chief ones leading up to the mutiny: 1.—Influence exerted by the success of the successful revolt in Russia which inspired the men to make demands for "naval committee," such as now exist in the Russian fleet. 2.—Insufficient food. 3.—Low morale caused by long inactivity.

Whether there was any connection between the outbreak in the navy and the mutinous uprisings of the German soldiers on the western front is unknown, but it is assumed here there was. A number were executed and severe terms of imprisonment were conferred on others. The penalties imposed, however, fell short of those demanded by the Kaiser.

Among the warships affected were the Westfalen, the Luitbold, Prinz Regent, Kaiser and Nuremberg. The government had the utmost difficulty in suppressing the revolt. Some of the marines refused to fire upon the mutineers and the infantry was called to the scene and the iron-disciplined soldiers showed no hesitancy in turning their machine guns and rifles upon the mutinous sailors. It is not known how many were killed.

Unrest in the German navy continues despite the stern measures that have been taken to stamp it out. All the members of the Reichstag involved were socialists.

LEAD TO LARGER REVOLT.
(International News Service.)

Washington, Oct. 11.—American naval circles today were anxiously seeking further information about the mutiny in the German navy. The admission that one had taken place was considered most significant. Naval revolts have been very few in his-

KAISER REVEALS HIS PEACE TERMS FOR FIRST TIME

(International News Service.)

Berlin, Oct. 11.—A severe obstacle to early peace negotiations is seen in the announcement of the German chancellor that the Germans will not relinquish Alsace-Lorraine.

Diplomats declare that Dr. Michaelis' statement is, in their opinion, the nearest that Germany has yet come to making public her peace terms. Political debate in the Reichstag committee will be resumed today.

A movement is reported under way in the Reichstag, backed by a number of deputies, to compel the resignation of Chancellor Michaelis and reinstate Prince Von Buelow, who formerly held the post. During the session of the Reichstag Tuesday more attacks were made against President Wilson.

Sixteen Vessels Were Scuttled Last Week

(International News Service.)

London, Oct. 11.—The sixteen British ships sunk by German submarines last week brings the total number of British vessels destroyed since submarine warfare began last February up to 812, according to figures compiled by the admiralty today.

Senator Bankhead Will Renew Fight For Big Nitrate Plant

Attends Reunion in Birmingham This Week, Then Goes Back and Begins Hammering Again

United States Senator John H. Bankhead will attend the Confederate reunion at Birmingham this week, and then will return to Washington and renew his fight for the location of the permanent government nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals. This statement is contained in a letter received by the Daily today in response to a telegram of congratulations sent on October 6, in which the Daily expressed its appreciation of the work already done by the senator in securing the temporary nitrate plant and powder mill for the Shoals.

Senator Bankhead's letter follows: Messrs. H. D. Harkreader and W. R. Shelton, Publishers, The Albany-Decatur Daily, Albany, Alabama. Gentlemen:

I am replying to your wire of the 6th instant by mail. Our success at this end of the line would not have been possible but for the patriotic and hearty co-operation of the people of the Tennessee Valley. We feel confident that in the near future the main plant contemplated by the Act of Congress appropriating $20,000,000 will be located, and will redouble our efforts in behalf of Muscle Shoals. While the experiment plant is a great victory for the Tennessee Valley we feel that it will better enable us to locate the main plant at Muscle Shoals. We cannot afford to lessen our efforts but must continue active and energetic.

I will attend the reunion at Birmingham this week, but will return to Washington and renew my efforts for the location of the main plant. We have broken the ice, and have overcome the greatest opposition, and if we ultimately succeed it will be the greatest development that has ever come to Alabama.

Sincerely yours,
J. H. BANKHEAD.

New York, Oct. 11.—New York tied the world series today by winning the fourth game of the series. Kauff, the Giant center fielder, was the batting hero of the day. After having failed to connect during the series, he lined out two home runs. The last circuit clout brought in a runner ahead.

Fabre, who undertook to pitch for Chicago, was removed in the ninth and Danforth substituted. Schupp worked for the Giants.

(International News Service.)

New York, Oct. 11.—A clear blue sky and a hot, bright sun greeted the advance guard of fans who parked themselves in vantage points here this afternoon for the fourth game of the world series. The weather was the best offered yet for baseball. A feature of today's game was the fact that not more than 10,000 bugs were in their seats at 12:50 o'clock. The approach of the hour for today's game found the Giants standing on the threshold of a great opportunity.

Six Hundred Veterans Parade At Birmingham

(International News Service.)

Birmingham, Oct. 11.—Numbering now a bare 600, the thin line of gray clad heroes representing all that is left of the state's army of the old South, this afternoon marched in parade to the martial music of the new south by the regimental band from Camp McClellan at Anniston. The tottering gray line of civil war veterans whose courage built up an ideal of southern valor that will live forever, marched behind the strong khaki clad soldiers, their sons and sons of their comrades.

TEUTON TROOPS ARE VICTORS ON PART OF FIGHTING FRONT

Penetrate French Trenches On Meuse and Be

HEAVY RAINSTORMS CHECK OPERATION

Italian Offensive Has Reached Difficult Stage
As Winter Has Set in

(International News Service.)

London, Oct. 11.—There was a period of comparative calm on the British front during the night, owing to a heavy rainstorm, the war office announced at noon. In the region of Passchendaele and West Flanders big German guns were in action and the British positions in that sector were actively shelled.

(International News Service.)

Petrograd, Oct. 11.—The new Russian cabinet, headed by Premier Kerensky, today pledged Russia to the allied cause.

(International News Service.)

London, Oct. 11.—Heavy fighting has been taking place at two widely separated points on the western front during the past 24 hours, with the French engaged at both places. On the West Flanders front the French extended their gains, although the British were compelled to give ground under violent German attacks over a wide front. Both French and British troops are engaged in a desperate effort to drive the Germans from the Houthoult forest in Belgium. The fighting continues amidst storms, ruins and bursts of gunfire.

At Verdun the Crown Prince suddenly resumed the assaults on the right bank of the Meuse river, gaining a foothold in first line French trenches near Chaume forest.

Fighting activity is on the increase on the Italian front, but the Italian offensive has reached an exceedingly difficult stage, as winter has already set in in the mountains.

Alabama Negroes to Train in Iowa

Washington, Oct. 11.—No drafted negro troops will be sent to any of the national guard camps, but will be distributed as nearly as possible among the different national army cantonments, Chairman Dent of the house military committee telegraphed to Alabama today after a conference with Major General Bliss, chief of staff of the army.

The 6,000 drafted negro soldiers in Alabama, Mr. Dent was advised, will be sent to Camp Fort Dodge, Ia., and will be distributed as nearly equally as possible between the northern and southern camps. The northern camps, of course, will receive a larger proportion of these negro troops.

Hill and Lloyd in Medical Department

W. A. Hill, formerly of the Preuit-Dillehay Drug Co., and Elmer Lloyd, recently with the Decatur Drug Co., both of whom are now in training at Camp Pike, Ark., have been transferred to the medical department of the army, according to letters received here today. Their latest address is 312 Sanitary Train, Camp Pike, Ark. Both of these young soldiers are graduate pharmacists.

SELECTED MEN TO FILL REGIMENTS THEN TO FRANCE

BELIEVED THAT MANY MEN A CAMP PIKE WILL BE INCLUDED IN ORDER.

(International News Service.)
Camp Gordon, Oct. 11.—By Monday a steady stream of Alabama, Florida and Georgia selectmen will be pouring out of Camp Gordon and a steady stream from Massachusetts, New York, Maryland, Virginia and New Jersey will be pouring in, unless plans announced by the war department are changed.

Every one of the draft men now at Camp Gordon except the negroes will be used to fill up the national guard. Fifteen thousand men are needed for this purpose at Camp Wheeler alone. This means that the draftsmen from the southeast will see service in France before long, it is believed.

(International News Service.)
Little Rock, Oct. 11.—Telegrams have been flying fast today between the 87th division headquarters at Washington. This cantonment is others will supply the 87th division when its present personnel pulls out. Officers here are of the opinion that the movement will be very soon.

SCHEME TO POISON STUDENT AVIATORS HAS BEEN EXPOSED

(International News Service.)
Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—A story of a startling discovery by military authorities of a nation-wide plot to poison aviation students is printed today by the Philadelphia Evening Ledger.

The discovery was made through a chance conversation by aviation students at Princeton, N. J., and resulted in the arrest of Private S. O. Livingston, who will face a court martial next week.

Investigation of the man's room resulted in the finding of two pounds of cyanide of potassium, an amount sufficient to cause the death of every one of the 1,200 people now in the Princeton school. Officials refused to discuss the case, but believe Livingston was the tool of originators of a plot to poison the entire student body.

MORE REVELATIONS OF GERMAN METHODS.

Messages passing between Count Von Bernstorff, the former German ambassador to the United States, and the Berlin foreign office, given out yesterday by the state department, are interesting as corroborating evidence of the criminality of the German government. They are also of more than passing note because they directly implicate Jeremiah O'Leary, the so-called "Irish patriot," who was dealt such a merciless and effective blow by President Wilson during the last presidential campaign.

The public is now awaiting further exposures of the crooked plans by which the imperial government hoped not only to prevent the shipment of munitions to the allied government from America, but to also tie the hands of the administration by a wide-spread propaganda intended to influence congress. That the machinations of the Hohenzollerns were detected is attributable largely to the fact that President Wilson and his advisers were on the alert and were not misled by the clever schemes of designing diplomats.

Germany has been branded as an international criminal, a nation that would descend to the dark deeds of the cheap assassin. Sabotage was the most gentle of the nefarious arts that it practiced. Neutrality was violated as open handedly where the United States was the intended victim as where helpless Belgium was the pawn. To crush a government like this is well worth while, regardless of the cost.

FOOD CONSERVATION CAMPAIGN.

The week beginning Oct. 21, under the direction of Hon. D. F. Green as chairman, a campaign will be waged in Morgan county having for its objective the conservation of the available food supply. The importance of this campaign is likely to be underestimated by those who are not wont to look into the future, by those who do not realize that efficiency is nothing but preparation and that the best cure is prevention. So far the war has not really hit home. There is no real suffering for the good things of life. This makes it the harder to appreciate the needs of our allies who are fighting the battles of democracy and world peace. It makes it almost impossible to feel that perhaps one or two years from now this great republic will be suffering the pangs of want, hunger, should our arms meet with defeat and the calls upon our manhood and resources be increased.

German "efficiency" has become a by-word the world over merely because for forty years the Kaiser and his colleagues in crime have been eating and preparing for the day that they had willed should come. American efficiency will surpass that of the Teuton if the entire nation wakes up to the seriousness of the situation that confronts. Already vast strides have been made. Six months after war was declared the nation's manhood and industry had been mobilized. A year from now its food resources will be more systematically controlled and distributed than those of Great Britain four years after the war began.

In order that food economy shall be effective it must be universal. Small savings daily by millions of people may win the war. It is every individual's duty to discourage waste and extravagance. It is the duty of the masses to encourage the weak, of the masses to brace the few. With a hearty "all together," Morgan county can not only conserve vast quantities of foodstuffs but can also reduce its bill for living expenses.

Congressman Lemuel P. Padgett, of Tennessee, chairman of the naval committee, one of the ablest men in the house, is one of the big national characters who did valiant service in securing the location of the nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals. He has been deluged with telegrams of congratulation upon his success, the following one from the Chattanooga Industrial Bureau being a sample:

Chattanooga frankly presented her claims for the experimental nitrate plant, but with equal frankness urged Muscle Shoals for first consideration. We rejoice in the victory and congratulate you on your great part in bringing this about. Keep up the pressure and get us the big plant before you quit.

One Albany woman is helping to win the war by saving bread crumbs which are later converted into a new styled omelette or are served in some other attractive way. There is no superabundance of bread pudding—one of the world's pet abominations—at her house. The government furnishes recipes for converting even such an ordinarily despised commodity as bread crumbs into most palatable food. This is a sane and sensible thing to do. It is an example that might be followed by every sincere advocate of food conservation. It is better to save the crumbs now than to beg for them later, as Lazarus did.

Jerome O'Leary, who came into national notice during the recent presidential election, when he engaged in a little argument with President Wilson, is shown by recent revelations of the state department to have had access to "more disloyal Americans," than the executive accused him of. As the Von Bernstorff tool he ranked very little higher than an ordinary German spy. He would look good suspended from a first class giglet.

The German militarists now roll their eyes to heaven and declare that the Fatherland will never relinquish its priceless territorial inheritance—meaning Alsace-Lorraine. A year ago that same pious attitude would have been struck had some allied government suggested the restoration of Belgium. What will be doing a year hence?

Home Guards Route Thieves From Store

Sergeant O. Stoddard and Private Wm. Bailey, of the Albany Home Guards, have distinguished themselves by routing the first burglar encountered by any member of the local semi-military organization. Last night, when returning to the Thornton Jewelry Store from the street carnival, the two guards attempted to enter the building from the front. Finding that Sergeant Stoddard had misplaced his key, they went to the rear door and found it open. The thief, evidently hearing the noise out front, had made his get-away.

Christmas Will See End of War Says An Irish Prophecy

From far away Ireland comes a remarkable prophecy of the ending of the world war by Christmas. The prophecy is published in the Anglo-Celt, a newspaper published at Cavan, Ireland, a copy of which has been received by a resident of Albany.

The "prophecy" which told that the war was to have ended on August 28th has been found wanting. And yet here is another one. Why it was sent to the gentleman who has given it to the public is not stated, but the story goes that a prominent Strabane business man has received a copy of a manuscript which was discovered at the breaking down of a wall in the monastery of the Holy Ghost, at Visfar (a city on the Island of Gotland, in the Baltic), which contains a 200-year old prophecy of the war. The prophecy, which was written on parchment by a monk in the year 1701, is now kept in the town hall of Visfar. The copy held by the Strabane man was received by him on Thursday from the head of a very large industry in England. The manuscript reads as follows:

"Europe will some day, when the seat of the Pope is vacant, meet with a fearful punishment. Seven nations will turn themselves against a bird with two heads. The bird will defend itself with wings and talons. A monarch who always mounts his horse from the wrong side shall be surrounded by a wall of foes. It will be a great struggle against East and West, and the lives of many men shall be lost. War chariots shall roll forward without horses, and fire dragons shall fly through the sky and spew fire, and sulphur and destroy towns. Mankind will not listen to the foreboding of God, and He shall turn away from them. The war shall last three years and five months. Starvation and disease shall follow. Bread will be controlled and distributed among the people. Men will be lurking at the bottom of the sea for their prey. The war will start when the corn is ripening in the fields, and reach its maximum pitch when the cherry trees are blooming for the third time. Peace will be obtained about Christmas."

GEORGE WOLSH IN "THE BOOK AGENT" FRIDAY.

Fun rampant is the only phrase which can be used to describe the newest production in which George Walsh appears for William Fox, "The Book Agent," which will be shown at the Delite theatre on Friday. "CHEATING CHEATERS."
When "Cheating Cheaters" is presented at the Masonic theatre next Tuesday, Oct. 16, for an engagement of one night, under the direction of A. H. Woods, theatregoers of Albany and Decatur will have an opportunity of witnessing the most conspicuous New York hits of last season and one of the most notable successes of recent years. The play will come to the Masonic theatre direct from a run of an entire season at the Eltinge theatre, New York, where it was seen by nearly 250,000 people. "Cheating Cheaters" is a farce-melodrama in four acts by Max Marcin, author of "The House of Glass," and deals in an altogether original and humorous way with the machinations of two sets of crooks, who, in the guise of respectability, seek to plunder each other. As for the dexterous and surprising way in which the situations have been handled, the New York Times said "that a better mixture of farce and melodrama has not been seen on the New York stage since the 'Seven Keys to Baldpate.'"

The white way on Second avenue should be put in operation from one end to the other at once. Let there be light. We hope the light will come.

Local Boy Now in Active Service Says Home Paper is the Thing.

The Daily is being introduced into France by Chas. T. Hardman, Jr., according to a letter to his mother received here today from the war zone. Mr. Hardman is in active service with the hospital corps.

The letter follows:

France, Sept. 18, 1917.
Dear Mother:
Just received the second bundle of papers and was very glad to get them. I like the home paper better than I do the Birmingham papers because there are so many more items of news that interests me. Think I shall write Mr. Shelton a letter as soon as I find time and tell him how I have introduced the paper into France.
There is no news to write at this time, but I just thought I would drop you a line or two to thank you for the papers. Of course I am still well and doing fine. If luck just stays with me some good old day I will be with you at home again. Best wishes and love to all.

Navy is Again Seeking Recruits; Furloughs Revoked

(International News Service.)
Washington, Oct. 11.—The navy department today sent to all recruiting officers instructions to enlist all the apprentice seamen and firemen that apply for service.

This order followed the calling into active service at training camps of the hundreds of recruits who since enlisting had been given furloughs to remain at their homes until the navy had facilities for their training. The new order is taken as the forerunner of the campaign to get sailors to man the merchant ships to be constructed by the shipping board and those privately operated who call on the navy to man the vessels.

X-Ray Color Glass.

Glass colored by the light of short-wave length and gem stones changed in color are among the curious effects produced with the new X-ray tube of H. Rosenthal, a New Jersey experimenter. Several kinds of optical glass were affected, and became progressively changed throughout to various yellow and brown tints. A variety supposed to contain manganese took on the amethystine or purple tint sometimes acquired by window panes long exposed to bright sunlight. Pink California spodumene was altered to a deep green in a few minutes; and some minerals owing their natural coloring to manganese were also changed in color. The special X-ray tube is about four inches in diameter. A rod of molybdenum supports an anode of solid tungsten, which is water-cooled, and the cathode is an electrically heated spiral of tungsten. The bulb is cooled by compressed air. The tube is operated by a high-tension transformer, and its effects can be modified or regulated by varying the voltage and the cathode temperature.

Patriotism.

"This conversation was overheard on a street car the other day:

"Well, what are you doing for your country? Gone into the home guard?"

"No; they wouldn't take me on account of my eyes."

"Planting a garden?"

"No; haven't any land that's fit to plant. I'm going to pay my war tax without making. The association wanted me to go in with them on a protest, but I refused."

Is not that a pretty good kind of patriotism, too?—The Youth's Companion.

COL. JOYES NOW AT MUSCLE SHOALS

JOINS PARTY OF ENGINEERS
DELVING INTO NITRATE
PLANT LOCATION.

Sheffield, Oct. 11.—The quota of government engineers who have been here since last week delving into various details relative to the experimental nitrate plant and powder factory to be established here, was further augmented by the arrival today
of a party of engineering experts from Washington and New York, headed by Col. J. W. Joyes of the ordnance department of the United States army,
who, with other officials recently made an inspection of a number of proffered sites for the location of these plants, following which Secretary of War Baker announced that Sheffield had been recommended.

Investigation and study of the local site and incident conditions are now being conducted by Col. Joyes, Captains Hemphill and Lieutenant for the war department, and they are being assisted in these matters by E. G. Williams, vice-president, and S. R. Jones and John C.
Munson, engineers of the J. G. White Company of New York. The investigation is practically completed and so far has proved highly favorable to the Sheffield location for the proposed plants.

Southern Bell Pays Employees Who Enlist

R. F. Moore, of Stevenson First Man to Go From this District.

Employees of the Southern Bell Telephone Company who enlist in the signal corps of the United States army will be allowed full pay until the end of the calendar month in which they are called into service, and for a period not exceeding twelve months will be allowed full pay, less the amount they are entitled to receive from the government, according to notification received today by J. E.
Cassels, district manager.
Acting under the foregoing instructions, Mr. Cassels today paid in full for the month the salary of R. F.
Moore, combination man at Stevenson,
who has enlisted in the signal corps.
W. A. Toms, who was formerly employed at the Decatur office, but was later promoted to Atlanta, is another Southern Bell man who has entered the service of his country, Mr. Cassels has been advised.

Horse Was a Little Slow.
Seagirt would not lie, I know, but he is dreadfully careless with the truth. He said that the horse he hired to go to Glenellen last summer was so slow that a spider wore its web in the wheel. Children came and made mud pies in the shade of the buggy. At one point he had an exciting race with a caterpillar. A woman came out and asked him to please drive a little faster. He was keeping the sun off her tomatoes. He said the horse was slower than a barber he knows, who is so slow that the whiskers grow faster than he can shave,
and by the time he is through the customer has a full beard.—Exchange.

CHICAGO SWEEP BY PATRIOTISM

JACK DILLEHAY MUCH IMPRES-SED WITH SPIRIT DISPLAYED.
SAW BALL GAME.

"The main thing I noticed about Chicago people was their united efforts for the war," said A. C. (Jack) Dillehay, who has just returned from the Windy City, where he went on business and pleasure and attended the world series ball games.
"Every business house carried banners advertising the new Liberty loan and the needs of the Red Cross.
Flags and bunting were everywhere.
Out at the ball grounds there were booths for every allied country, and before the game was called patriotic speeches were made in front of all the booths of the many nations now at war with Germany. I was not close enough to hear what they said, but the speakers were certainly given a lot of applause. Sunday I went to church to hear Dr. Hodges at the Michigan Avenue Auditorium. Most of the discourse was devoted to explaining how great was the need of Americans doing everything in their power to aid the successful prosecution of the war. The thousands present were told that if they neglected
the smallest service now, that they were as much slackers and deserters
as if they failed in their duty as soldiers in the ranks. Everyone was urged to buy a Liberty bond. At the close a collection was taken for the soldiers' book fund and you could tell by the rattle of the money that hundreds upon hundreds of dollars were taken up. I never saw such a big collection in my life.

Crazy About Ball Game.

"Of course everybody was crazy about that blooming ball game. I know of one man who gave $60 for a ticket and then didn't get to use it, as he was called away from the city at the last minute. He offered his ticket for $17.50, but as it was so late he got only $10 for it, for the man who bought it may have got crowded out. Besides the thousands turned away at the gates, I know several that bought tickets from little boys who were in line for $5.00, and then didn't get in, as there was a stampede.
The lines broke and many who had stood in line all night and part of the previous day lost their places and their hard earned chance to see the game. I was an innocent profiteer by the stampede. A lot of us were in line about six blocks from the grounds, when all at once I noticed that the men in front of me had broken out of our line and were crossing the street at a high speed.
I followed at my best gait and finally saw what it was all about, as our line broke into one of the lines that was standing near the park. Before the police could stop the stampede,
a lot of us were well on our way to the turnstiles. I had a bleacher ticket for only 50 cents, but got a very good seat and saw most of the plays.
I am glad to see that New York won yesterday's game, as I am partial to that team."

Argentine Strikers Would Starve Cops

(International News Service.)

Buenos Aires, Oct. 11.—Railway strikers today served notice on the store keepers that they must not sell foodstuffs to Argentine troops or armed police. The strike situation continues unchanged with little prospect for a settlement.

More Than 3000 German Sailors

tory, it was pointed out, and in discussing the revolt naval officials declared this mutiny must have a far reaching effect and is probably the beginning of a dissatisfaction which will reduce the effectiveness of both the German army and navy. The admission that one of the causes was scant food is astonishing, for the German navy, after that of the United States, has been the best fed in the world.

GERMAN UNREST TO HELP WIN THE WAR.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Oct. 11.—Official Washington is daily becoming more confident of assistance in the winning of the war from internal unrest in the German empire. Members of the president's cabinet and other high officials who have been kept informed of the secret communications reaching the American capital, say that a new movement is being felt in the central powers and is steadily gaining strength.

Ecclesiastics Win War Honors.

War honors have been won by many French ecclesiastics who were formerly professors and scholars in the French Ecclesiastical college in Rome, Italy. The college has added to its "Golden Book" three nominations of the legion of honor, two military medals, two medals of honor for service in combating epidemics at the French front, and more than fifty citations in the order of the day for gallantry in the field. Among the holders of the legion of honor are the Rev. Father Catin, professor at the seminary, a tall, keen-faced, soldierly type of priest.
Recently he came to Rome on short leave after nearly three years' fighting, and Rome, old and indifferent as she is, woke up and rubbed its eyes to see his tall, spare figure, dressed half as a priest and half as a soldier, taking the air meditatively on the Pincian hill, wearing his legion of honor cross and looking like some old picture of svaltry
